

Christmas came about by - religious leaders (the Pope) replacing a pagan celebration (celebrating the winter solstice - the Sun) of over indulgence and debauchery, with religious Christian overtones; eventually celebrating the birth of Jesus Christ even though it is certain that Christ was not born at this time of year. There is compelling speculation that Christ was actually born on a Wednesday March 28, but that never stopped religious leaders from declaring a pagan holiday as their own at any given time to replace the pagan tradition with religious celebrations.
